Fixen led the Sea Kings with six goals, with Macer adding four. Romer, Henkaus, Francis and senior Dean Dillenberg each scored twice, while junior Brooks Hawkins and senior Michael Schlader added one

The Sea Kings, ranked No. 1 in Southern California by lax-power.com, defeated Beverly Hills High on Monday night 20-3 and played host to cross-town rival Peninsula High School yesterday. Scores were not available at press time.

"We just need to do what we do because we are good at it," Fixen said. "We need to stay calm and poised the whole time, because in big games like this, it's the guy who does the easy things best coming out on top."

Don't Drown Our Waterways
in Pollution...

...Instead be the Pollution Solution!

You Can Be the Solution to Pollution

Watch how you use and dispose of different materials around your home. Fertilizers, yard clippings, automotive fluids, and animal waste can all be sources of pollution in our waterbodies. Please take care with these materials around your home, because your actions DO make a difference.

- Apply Fertilizers and Pesticides SPARINGLY and never apply these materials prior to rain!
- Make sure all leaf blowers, if used, do not blow yard clippings into the street or canyons.
- Talk to your gardener or landscaper about proper ways to dispose of yard waste and debris.
- Do not dump manure or yard waste into streets, or canyons, or on slopes; it can make GREAT composting material and can also be recycled.
- Clean up after pets and dispose of waste into a trash can, don't let them wash away.
- Collect and recycle used oil and filters when servicing your vehicle.
- Fix all oil leaks and use an absorbent material such as kitty litter to clean up spills.

Nutrients can change the delicate balance of food and oxygen in fresh and coastal waters. An abundance of nutrients can result in algae blooms, dead zones, die offs, and change marine habitat. Nutrients are often found in fertilizers and other garden chemicals, along with animal waste, including manure.
